Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

Anna and Simeon saw greatness and glory in the face of a tiny babe. Jesus was insignificant in the eyes of others who looked for the Messiah in the gilded halls of kings. But Anna and Simeon recognized God when they saw him. Do we?

Devotions, Explained!

For centuries, Christians have relied on the intercessory prayers of Joseph, earthly spouse of the Blessed Virgin and foster father of Christ. One particular novena prayer to St. Joseph is often called "the unfailing prayer to St. Joseph."

Prayer of Faith

Dear God,
Open my eyes to Your movement in my life.
And, even when I don't see it or don't understand, help me to rely on the promises of Your love and mercy.

Amen.

From the principal, Mrs. Mary McCoy

VIVIR las OBRAS de MISERICORDIA

Necesitamos misericordia porque vivimos en un mundo imperfecto. Todos conocemos a personas que han sufrido una muerte en la familia, una enfermedad grave, un divorcio, la pérdida de un trabajo o alguna tragedia personal. Hemos escuchado historias impactantes de violencia, opresión, pobreza, prejuicio y abuso. Si bien no podemos evitar que sucedan todas las cosas malas, podemos ser más misericordiosos en nuestra respuesta a las personas necesitadas. Tener misericordia significa que entramos en el sufrimiento de la otra persona. Sentimos el dolor de la otra persona, vemos a través de los ojos de la otra persona y nos ponemos dentro de su corazón y mente.

Aquí hay ocho ideas arraigadas en las obras de misericordia para ayudar sed cada día más misericordiosos.

- Permítete realmente preocuparte.
 - No juzgues a los demás.
 - Evita los chismes. Los chismes son otro ataque a una persona ya herida.
 - Niégate a tomar represalias. No guardes rencor ni intentes ajustar cuentas.
 - No le des la espalda. Cuando nos alejamos de alguien necesitado, nos alejamos de Cristo.
 - Cultiva pequeñas bondades.
 - Acepta la misericordia de los demás. Nosotros también necesitamos misericordia.
 - Ora por misericordia. Ora por tus familiares, amigos y vecinos, y por las personas que conoces que necesitan misericordia. Ora por las personas que te han hecho daño. Ora por las personas que sufren en todo el mundo.
- ORAR.

LIVING the WORKS of MERCY

We need mercy because we live in an imperfect world. We all know people who have suffered a death in the family, a serious illness, divorce, a job loss or some personal tragedy. We have heard shocking stories of violence, oppression, poverty, prejudice and abuse. While we can't stop every bad thing from happening, we can become more merciful in our response to people in need. Having mercy means that we enter into the other person's suffering. We feel the other person's pain, see through the other person's eyes, and place ourselves inside the other person's heart and mind.

Here are eight ideas rooted in the works of mercy to help you be more merciful every day.

- Allow yourself to really care.
- Don't judge others.
- Avoid gossip. Gossip is another assault on an already injured person.
- Refuse to retaliate. Don't hold a grudge or try to even the score.
- Don't turn away. When we turn away from someone in need, we are turning away from Christ.
- Cultivate small kindnesses.
- Accept mercy from others. We too, are in need of mercy
- Pray for mercy. Pray for family members, friends and neighbors, and people you know who are in need of mercy. Pray for people who have hurt you. Pray for people around the world who are suffering. PRAY.

A message from Bishop McKnight

The people entrust our elected leaders with the responsibility to enact policies that promote the safety and well-being of all. Securing our nation's borders is essential as we seek to protect our communities and maintain societal order. At the same time, immigrants deserve a fair, transparent, and efficient process as they seek entry — a standard our current immigration system regrettably fails to meet.

As people of faith, we must advocate for solutions rooted in compassion rather than fear or unnecessary harshness. While I support the deportation of violent criminals who are unlawfully present, I stand firmly against enforcement measures that instill fear or disrupt the stability of peaceful communities. These actions violate our moral principles.

Our faith calls us to pursue humane and just solutions to challenges of immigration. We must uphold our own dignity by treating the most vulnerable among us with respect and care. Those who come to our churches, volunteer beside us, and make great sacrifices for their families embody the very values that define the American Dream.

As we navigate these complex issues, I pray for our public leaders to be guided by wisdom and courage. I urge them to craft policies that balance the need for secure borders with fundamental human rights and dignity of all individuals.

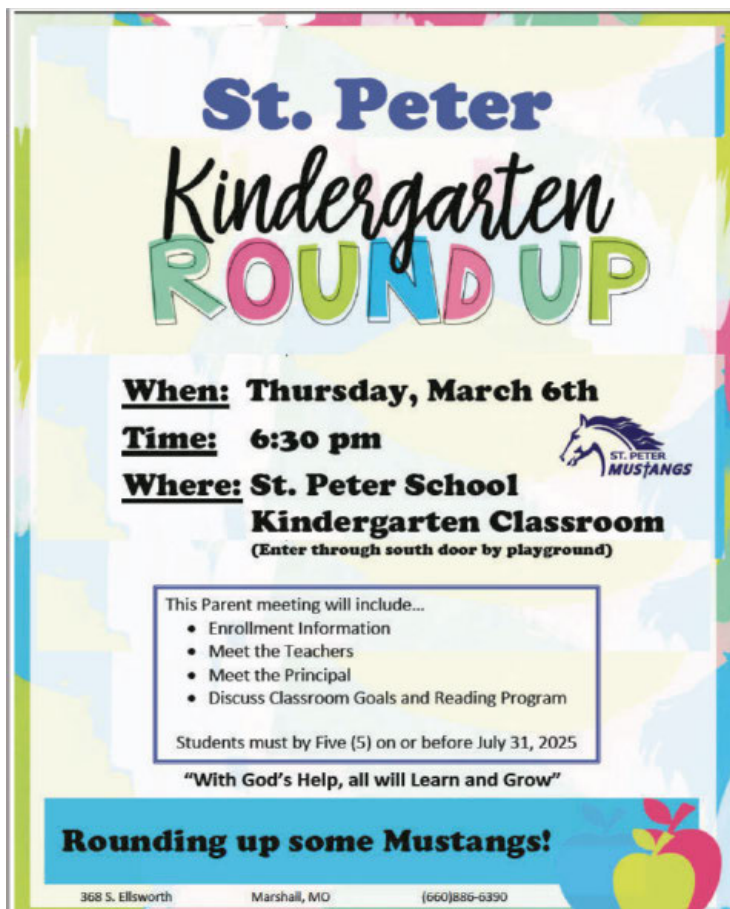

Un mensaje del obispo McKnight

El pueblo confía a los líderes electos la responsabilidad de implementar políticas que promuevan la seguridad y el bienestar de todos. Asegurar las fronteras de nuestra nación es esencial en la búsqueda de proteger nuestras comunidades y mantener el orden social. Al mismo tiempo, los inmigrantes merecen un proceso justo, transparente y eficiente de cara a su ingreso al país; un estándar que, lamentablemente, no cumple nuestro actual sistema migratorio.

Como personas de fe, debemos abogar por soluciones basadas en la compasión y no en el miedo o en un rigor innecesario. Aunque apoyo la deportación de criminales violentos que se encuentran ilegalmente en el país, me opongo firmemente a aquellas medidas de aplicación que infunden miedo o alteran la estabilidad de las comunidades que viven en paz. Estas acciones violan nuestros principios morales.

Nuestra fe nos llama a buscar soluciones humanas y justas a los desafíos que la inmigración plantea. Debemos defender nuestra propia dignidad tratando a los más vulnerables de entre nosotros con respeto y cuidado. Aquellos que vienen a nuestras iglesias, que se ofrecen como voluntarios junto a nosotros y que hacen grandes sacrificios por sus familias, encarnan los mismos valores que definen al “sueño americano”.

A medida que navegamos por estos complejos asuntos, rezo para que nuestros gobernantes sean guiados por la sabiduría y la valentía. Los insto a que elaboren políticas que equilibren la necesidad de tener fronteras seguras con el respeto a los derechos humanos fundamentales y a la dignidad de todas las personas.
